One of the factors that can't be controlled by the committee is the weather. Through out the years this has determined whether boats can leave the dock in the morning. Rain or shine they go, high winds has to be determined if it's safe to fish. It was one of the main reasons to have a 'rest day' in the middle of the tournament, allowing the day to be fished along with the Saturday, if needed. But sometimes even that doesn't work as was our case as these day local anglers have work commitments. In 1976 only 2 days could be fished, Friday & Saturday. After we cancelled fishing Sunday evening, there was a small craft warning at the 11.30pm update, and the early morning one also called for strong winds, Well the weather did a 180 and Monday turned out to be a calm day, although we still has some showers. It also looks like the rest of the week is going to be nice now with light winds and no rain. Maybe putting those rain ponchos in the bags worked after all.
